

NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR
MADELINE HUNTER

P.O. Box 112691 • Pittsburgh, PA 15241 • www.MadelineHunter.com

BIOGRAPHY

Madeline Hunter's first romance, BY ARRANGEMENT, was published in June, 2000, and she received the award for Waldenbooks Bestselling Debut Author that year. Since then she has seen sixteen historical romances and one novella published. Over two million copies of her books are in print in the US and her books have also been translated into nine languages. She is a six time RITA finalist, and won the long historical RITA in 2003 for her medieval romance STEALING HEAVEN. Fifteen of her books have been on the USA Today bestseller list, and she has also had titles on the New York Times list, Publishers Weekly list, and the Waldenbooks paperback fiction list. She has received two starred reviews in Publishers Weekly, and Romantic Times has awarded fourteen of her books 4 ½ stars. Madeline holds a Ph.D. in Art History, which she teaches at the college level. She currently lives in Pittsburgh with her husband and two sons. Madeline's next release, THE SINS OF LORD EASTERBROOK, will be released in February, 2009.

See the characters from LESSONS OF DESIRE come to life in the book video.

To contact Madeline Hunter, visit her website, www.MadelineHunter.com, click on "Contact Madeline," and send an email from the provided link.